DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claim(s) 1-5, 8-12 and 15-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Brisebois et al. (US 6,310,944 B1).

Regarding claim(s) 1, 9, 21 and 22, Brisebois discloses a method of providing communications services (FIG. 1 and column 1, lines 38-41), comprising the steps of:

receiving caller identification information identifying a call from an originating party to a receiving party (column 7, lines 26-29);

accessing a database of pre-created text messages, the database storing a pre-created text message having a common association between the receiving party and the originating party (column 7, lines 29-32); and communicating the pre-created text message to an Internet Protocol address associated with the originating party (column 7, lines 31-34).

Regarding claim(s) 2 and 10, Brisebois discloses a method, wherein the step of communicating the pre-created text message comprises communicating the pre-created text message via an Internet Protocol communications network (column 7, lines 31-34).

Regarding claim(s) 3 and 11, Brisebois discloses a method, wherein the step of communicating the pre-created text message comprising wirelessly communicating the pre-created text message via a wireless communications network (column 7, lines 31-34).

Regarding claim(s) 4, Brisebois discloses a method, wherein the step of communicating the pre-created text message comprises wirelessly communicating the pre-created text message via a pager communications network (column 7, lines 31-34).

Regarding claim(s) 5 and 12, Brisebois discloses a method, further comprising receiving a telephone call intended to terminate at the receiving party (column 7, lines 26-29).

Regarding claim(s) 8 and 15, Brisebois discloses a method, further comprising communicating the pre-created text message to another destination (column 7, lines 31-34).

Regarding claim(s) 16, Brisebois discloses a method according, wherein the step of selecting one of the pre-coated text messages comprises selecting one pre-created text message having a common association between the originating party and an additional condition, the additional condition specified by the receiving party (column 6, lines 11-22).

Regarding claim(s) 17, Brisebois discloses a method, wherein the additional condition comprises a time of a day that the call is received (column 5, lines 13-20).

Regarding claim(s) 18, Brisebois discloses a method, wherein the additional condition comprises entries in an electronic calendar (column 5, lines 13-20).

Regarding claim(s) 19, Brisebois discloses a method, wherein the additional condition comprises presence information (column 5, lines 21-31).

Regarding claim(s) 20, Brisebois discloses a method, wherein the additional condition is based on a search of another database (column 6, lines 11-22).

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claim(s) 1-5, 8-12 and 15-22 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
